

Love You Lord

You give us eyes to witness your creation You give us ears to hear the jubilation Of all the people coming forth to know you Of All the people coming to receive you We love you Lord, we love you Lord We lift our voices, we adore The glory of all that is yours We love you Lord Ev'ry trembling leaf will sing your praises The rocks will all be lifted from their places The ones who've chosen love will all be with you We hope against all hope to make it through We love you Lord, we love you Lord We lift our voices, we adore The glory of all that is yours We love you Lord Help us uncover the world take off the blinders that keep us from the truth Help us to see your ways Be our only truth We love you Lord, we love you Lord We lift our voices, we adore The glory of all that is yours We love you Lord, we love you We love you Lord, we love you We love you Lord

Thirsty

It's not enough to say I'm thirsty 'cause you can lead this fool to water but I've got to drink Everyone around here is searching for the answers But even with the signs and wonders it's so hard to think... that This impossible love is real in the God of heaven The unending Kingdom is what we are thirsting for We do so many things that do not deserve your mercy But you still fill our cups And your love goes on and on and on and on... It's hard enough admit that I'm empty I've got to put aside this pride to be filled with your love Everyone around here is searching for one answer But the destination isn't here and it's time to embrace this mystery of This impossible love Is real in the God of heaven The unending Kingdom Is what we are thirsting for We do so many things That do not deserve your mercy But you still fill our cups And your love goes on and on and on... On and on If I'm thirsting and time is just dragging It's a blink of Your eye On and on The tomes of the history of the earth Are nothing to you On and on On and on This impossible love Is real in the God of heaven The unending Kingdom Is what we are thirsting for We do so many things That do not deserve your mercy But you still fill our cups And your love goes on and on and on and on.

Where Will I Find You?

Today I feel so far away because even when I pray I'm going through the motions and that whole mystery of grace I tend to push behind my praise I make myself my own devotion The other day I sat in silence for a while I felt the need to fill the quiet And when I talk to You am I praying to myself? I am tempted to deny it. If I speak the words of faith but they get no feet it doesn't mean a thing and if I spend my life for show down on my knees Where will I find You? Where will I find You? Where will I find You? It makes sense You'd like to see A whole lot less of me In the center of my worship It's only right for me to decrease And show reliance on Your strength My abandon will be worth it If I speak the words of faith but they get no feet it doesn't mean a thing and if I spend my life for show down on my knees Where will I find You? Where will I find You? Where will I find You?

Gonna Struggle

I know that you can't feel me touch your hand So it's hard to understand That I am standing right beside you all the time Please don't leave your faith behind 'Cause you're gonna struggle You're gonna fall But I'll be there to pick you up You'll see it's easier to turn and walk away It wouldn't be the first today The evil one will serve lust, gluttony, and pride Oh, so many sheep will go astray 'Cause you're gonna struggle You're gonna fall You're gonna struggle You're gonna fall But I'll be there to pick you up 'Cause you know my love and you know we're gonna win The evil one lost when he chose to fight with sin Keep coming back to me ev'ry breath's a prayer Keep the faith alive 'Cause you're gonna struggle You're gonna fall You're gonna struggle You're gonna fall But I'll be there to pick you up

We Need the Cross

I never said it would be easy But it's worth every tear that you've cried I never said it would be popular to follow me You couldn't count the ones who've given up their lives We need the cross To see the resurrection We need the Christ We need the King I promised I wouldn't forsake you But you will not stop building these walls The fortresses that you're always running to Can't keep you safe, won't fill your plate, they cannot break your fall We need the cross To see the resurrection We need the Christ We need the King We try to limit You You, without end You, who are everything You, most of all You most of all who know We need the cross To see the resurrection We need the Christ We need the King

Everything I Know

I'm trusting in Your providence 'cause all I have, You have provided I'm standing strong upon your mighty power 'cause in the fight, You are my strength You love me in my brokenness And even when I do not know You You do not know me for my sinfulness 'cause in my shame You send Your grace Everything I know, I know 'cause you led me to the truth And what I've yet to learn I know will come Everything I know, I know 'cause you led me to the truth And what I've yet to learn I know will come I know will come We hunger for your presence, Lord Because your love is healing power We gladly wait to see your face and we have placed our hope in you Everything I know, I know 'cause you led me to the truth And what I've yet to learn I know will come Everything I know, I know 'cause you led me to the truth And what I've yet to learn I know will come I know will come

Joyful Sacrifice

We know it's Your will, not our own Without the cross we are not whole We stand before You humble and torn You are the Lord There is joy in the sacrifice So help me be your happy servant There is joy in the sacrifice So lead me all the way home We pray that we may serve the poor The lost, the lonely, and the forlorn The sacrifice we make to the least of the world We make to You, Lord There is joy in the sacrifice So help me be your happy servant There is joy in the sacrifice So lead me all the way home Help us to die to the things of the world No matter what, You matter more We give up our lives, give You our souls So lead us home There is joy in the sacrifice So help me be your happy servant There is joy in the sacrifice So lead me all the way home When we feed the poor we feed our Lord When we give a coat, we clothe our Lord When we go to see the sick or the prisoner The love they see is the Christ in us There is joy in the sacrifice So help me be your happy servant There is joy in the sacrifice So lead me all the way home

Strangers, We Are Called

I am a stranger here Wandering far from home This is a desert earth But we are not alone We are not alone We're far from home faithful fools for you "Strangers" we are called But we are called We long to be with

You But our faith falters in our unseeing disbelief Still in our quiet prayer We will hear You call our name You are calling We're far from home faithful fools for you "Strangers" we are called But we are called The holy fathers have gone before us To show piety and humility Those, strangers too, called to be mocked and martyred for the sake of their belief of their belief We're far from home faithful fools for you "Strangers" we are called But we are called

All in the Family

Are you my brother? Like Christ is my brother? We've gotta share more than God our father We've gotta help out and love each other In the family of God, we put our love We're all brothers and sisters Under our father, God And our Mother Mary, who bore His only Son Nuns and rock stars, Hobos, the ugly, and the beautiful are... All in the family All in the family Hey little sister, Your past is not what you have become I won't judge you for the wrong you've been done Your family is here no matter where you've come from In the family of God, we put our love We're all brothers and sisters Under our father, God And our Mother Mary, who bore His only Son Nuns and rock stars, Hobos, the ugly, and the beautiful are... All in the family All in the family No matter what your family looks like You can always find support in the one that God has made for you And when we're gathered at his table The love of God alone can feed us all In the family of God, we put our love We're all brothers and sisters Under our father, God And our Mother Mary, who bore His only Son Nuns and rock stars, Hobos, the ugly, and the beautiful are... All in the family All in the family

Rock of Safety

Lord, be my rock of safety Lord, be the stronghold that saves me Lord you lead me And Lord please guide me For the honor of Your name For the honor of Your name My rock of safety is You, Lord The glory of Your name has set me free My rock of safety is You, Lord You won't abandon me Help me be poor in spirit Help me to hunger for You Lord, console me When I am weeping For the honor of Your name For the honor of Your name My rock of safety is You, Lord The glory of Your name has set me free My rock of safety is You, Lord You won't abandon me For the honor of Your name For the honor of Your name My rock of safety is You, Lord The glory of Your name has set me free My rock of safety is You, Lord You won't abandon me

Make Us One Body

The sorrow of the cross The endless gift of self One sacrifice for all A broken body claims victory over the idols of power and wealth The promise of your word Is my hope when I am nothing I comfort in the life that you restore I pray to know the fullness of your glory Lord, please let this bread make us one body Show us compassion, and teach us to love just like you do Lord, you are the Word, the Way, the Truth We come to seek you in this Eucharistic food When I say "I believe" Help me have the faith to see that this paschal mystery Is the feast of one bread, one cup, and one body The healing that you bring when your Holy Spirit comes to bless these gifts It satisfies the hungry It proves by resurrection that you live Lord, please let this bread make us one body Show us compassion, and teach us to love just like you do Lord, you are the Word, the Way, the Truth We come to seek you in this Eucharistic food
